

MY DIARY.

Jackie Walker.

April 15, 1935.

To-day I went for music. After I came home I ate my supper and did my home work, home work.
Then I went out to play. My brother, Earl Baragon and I played ball. Then I came in and did some music lessons.
I was reading some funny papers and then I went to bed.

April 16, 1935.

This morning I got up and ate my breakfast.

On my way to school I met Douglas.

Gregory and I went on Fifth Avenue. We walked to school together.

When we reached school we played marbles. He came in school and did arithmetic. At recess we played (marbles) marbles.

April 17, 1935.

This morning as I was coming up to school I met Dougy. He hurried up to school and played marbles. At recess I stayed in. At lunch time I started to eat my lunch in the playshed but went over into the lunch-room. Then played marbles.

April 18, 1935.

This morning I met Douglas coming to school. We played a few games of marbles and then the G's bazaar went. We came in school.

At recess we played marbles. At lunch hour I went home, ate my lunch then came to school.

When I reached school I watched some boys playing marbles.
